

WHISTLEBLOWER AWARDS

Government whistleblower programs allow whistleblowers to recover a percentage of the money that the government recovers as a result of the whistleblower's information.

As a general rule, that percentage can be as high as 30%. The actual award will depend on many factors, including the quality and utility of the work performed by the whistleblower's attorneys in support of the government's investigation.

If you would like to speak to one of our attorneys about a potential whistleblower matter, please email wbinfo@ktmc.com or call us at 1 (866) 369-7779. All case evaluations are confidential and free.
